

Soil Health Profile

Claude

Age:

Very old, but has changed in appearance over the years

Address:

West Central Scotland

Preferred Occupation:

Livestock farmer

Height/Weight:

Average height but often rather overweight

Colour:

Grey

Personality:

Dour

Notes:

The patient complains of a blotchy appearance when going outside, which may explain his dour attitude. Patient is a bit of a damp squib, and many complain he is hard to work with and can become depressed when under pressure. Well known throughout the region, but with feet of clay.

Health advice:

Patient should be careful not to undertake certain activities when it is wet as there is a serious risk to their health. Water problems can be rectified by insertion of drains but this is very expensive and no longer available on the NHS. Could work hard if treated correctly, and is at his best in dry summers.
