

Soil Health Profile

Heather

Age:

Very old, but extremely interesting

Address:

Eastern and Central Highlands

Preferred Occupation:

Gamekeeper/forester/ecologist/farmer

Height/Weight:

Very light on top, much heavier below. Usually over a metre tall

Colour:

Multi-coloured

Personality:

Jekyll and Hyde syndrome

Notes:

On the surface this patient appears dark and often quite shallow but with some digging you get past her defences, she demonstrates hidden depths. Then her flamboyant nature is exemplified by the colours she exhibits. No sign of water retention. In her natural state, grows very valuable and interesting hair.

Health advice:

This patient has had a lot of treatment since birth and nowadays can often be mistaken for Sandy. Medical opinion is divided on the best treatment for Heather - farmers will add lime and nutrients to her, whereas gamekeepers want to singe her hair.
