Coffee

Conference Programme

Wednesday 29 March 2017 (cont.)
Panel Discussion
11:00 – 12:30	Panel Discussion	John Holland Suzanne Burgess Jenny Johnson David Foster Caroline Drummond Andrew Bauer
Lunch
Session II
13:30 – 13:50	Mark Ramsden and Steve Ellis	Landscape resources for beneficial natural enemies in arable production systems
13:50 – 14:10	Doug Warner, John Tzivilakis, Andrew Green and Kathy Lewis	Ecological Focus Areas and beneficial insect (Coleoptera : Carabidae) conservation for pest control: accounting for farm specific factors
14:10 – 14:30	Francesc Rubèn Badenes-Pérez, Beatriz Parrado Márquez and Eduard Petitpierre	Simultaneous use of winter cress (Brassicaceae) in trap cropping, conservation biological control, and pollinator conservation
14:30 – 14:50	Sebastian Laurenz and Rainer Meyhöfer	Banker plants promote functional biodiversity in cabbage (oral)
14:50 – 15:10	Pierre Franck, Luan Alberto Odorizzi, Marlice Botelho Costa, Odair Aparecido Fernandes, Claire Lavigne and Armin Bischoff	Impact of agro-ecological infrastructures on the control of insect pests in apple orchards
Coffee

Session II (cont.)
15:30 – 15:50	Lene Sigsgaard and Stine Kramer Jacobsen	Functional agrobiodiversity – a novel approach to optimize pest control in fruit production
15:50 – 16:10	To be announced
16:10 – 16:30	Claire Lavigne, Mariline Maalouly, Lino B. Monteiro, Benoît Ricci, Jean-François Toubon, Jean-Charles Bouvier, Jérôme Olivares, Sandrine Maugin, Cécile Thomas and Pierre Franck	Landscape scale and local crop protection intensity affect the abundance of the codling moth and its predation and parasitism in apple orchards
16:30 – 16:50	Julie-Éléonore Maisonhaute, Geneviève Labrie and Eric Lucas	Is higher landscape heterogeneity associated with lower variation of abundances of pests and natural enemies?
16:50 – 17:10	Ibrahima Thiaw, Valérie Soti, Ahmadou Sow, François-Régis Goebel, Thierry Brévault and Mouhamadou Diakhaté	Effect of landscape diversity on biocontrol of the millet head miner, Heliocheilus albipunctella (Lepidoptera: Noctuidae) in Senegal
17:15 – 18:15	IOBC Meeting
18:30 – 20:00	Civic Reception and Poster Session
